This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

INTRODUCTORY REMARKS.

The Salem Athenæum, incorporated in 1810, was formed by the union of the Social and Philosophical Libraries.

In the year 1760, a number of gentlemen signed a covenant for the formation of a library in Salem, to be called the "Social Library;" the number of shares at the commencement was thirty-two, at five guineas per share;—this number was afterwards increased by the accession of new members. The library was first deposited in the brick school-house in School street, and there continued till 1786, when it was removed to the new middle school-house, now the centre school-house in Washington street; the brick school-house was taken down to erect on or near its site the Court House, and this last building was also taken down in 1839, for the accommodation of the Eastern Rail-Road Company. The library was afterwards removed to the Central Building, Central street, where it continued till the union and the formation of the Athenæum.

From the year 1775 to 1784, no meetings were held, and the interest which was before manifested in the success of the library was paralized by the unsettled state of the country during the Revolution. At the restoration of peace, the attention of the proprietors was again directed to the state of the library; all fines, forfeitures, &c. that had been incurred during the above-mentioned period, were cancelled, and it was determined to begin anew; a fresh impulse, thus imparted, rendered its farther progress successful. In 1797, an Act of Incorporation was obtained. In 1809, a catalogue was printed.

During the revolutionary war, the vessel on board of which a part of the library of the celebrated Dr. Richard Kirwan* was shipped for transportation across the Irish Channel, was captured by an American privateer. These books were brought into Beverly and sold. A company of gentlemen, consisting of the Rev. M. Cutler, LL.D., of Hamilton, Rev. J. Willard, D.D. LL.D., and Joshua Fisher, M.D. of Beverly, Rev. T. Barnard, D.D, Rev. J. Prince, LL.D., E. A Holyoke, M.D. LL.D., and Dr. J. Orne, of Salem, &c., became the purchasers, and thus was laid the foundation of the "Philosophical Library." An offer of remuneration was afterwards made to Dr. Kirwan, who generously declined it, expressing his satisfaction that his valuable Library had found so useful a destination. Rev. Joseph Willard was the Librarian from the commencement till his removal to Cambridge in December, 1781, to enter upon the duties of President of Harvard University. The Rev. Dr. Prince was then appointed his successor, and continued in office till the union in 1810. The late N. Bowditch, LL.D., when a young man, was enabled, through the kindness of the proprietors, to pursue his studies under very favorable auspices, by having free access to this Library, which contained many important scientific books. In order to repay the debt of gratitude, which he felt he had incurred, he left in his will, made fifty years afterwards, the sum of one thousand dollars for the use of the Salem Athenæum.

* Dr. Kirwan, a chemical Philosopher, was born in Ireland about the middle of the last century, and died in 1812. His principal works are, "An Essay on the Constitution of Acids," "Elements of Mineralogy," in two vols. 8vo, and a work on Logic, published in 1809.—Penny Cyclopædia, Art. Kirwan.

At the formation of the Athenæum, the books were deposited in the rooms occupied by the Social Library. In April, 1815, they were removed to rooms in Essex Place. In 1825, they were again removed to the rooms over the Salem Bank, and finally, in the spring of 1841, to the present spacious hall in Lawrence Place, recently fitted for their reception. The present number of shares is 97. Number of volumes in the Library, 9000. They have been principally obtained by the sale of shares, and by annual assessments.

Among the principal donations are eighty-three volumes of Documents published by the Record Commission, presented by the British Government; Audubon's "Birds of America," from N. Bowditch, J. I. Bowditch, Joseph Peabody, N. Silsbee, S. C. Phillips, D. A. White, Benjamin Pickman, William Pickman, D. L. Pickman, and Miss S. Burley; Bowditch's Translation of the Mecanique Celeste of La Place, from the translator; "Academie Royale des Inscriptiones et Belles Lettres, Histoire de l', &c." 17 vols., and "Academie Royale, &c. Memoires de Literature," 59 vols., from Theodore Lyman, of Boston; besides other valuable books from Edwin Bartlett, E. A. Plummer, J. Augustus Peabody, John Pickering, &c.

The arrangement of this Catalogue is systematic, except that of the pamphlets, which is alphabetical. For explanation respecting this last part, see page 95.

The books are described in the words of their respective authors, and are inserted under their names when the same have been ascertained, otherwise under some important word in the title or the name of the subject upon which they respectively treat. Some deviations occur; anonymous works relating to particular persons, or their writings, are placed under the names of those persons.

The systematic arrangement presents at a glance the degree of completeness in the several departments. In some, many deficiencies occur. These, we trust, will ere long be filled by the same liberality that has raised the Athenæum to its present condition.

PAMPHLETS.

The following Catalogue includes about sixteen hundred Pamphlets. They are inserted alphabetically, under the names of their respective authors, when the same have been ascertained. They are arranged, as far as practicable, according to their subjects, and bound into volumes. A few deviations from this arrangement were unavoidable, as some were bound before the present plan was adopted, and are placed in that series where the major part of the contents of each volume entitle them to belong.

A short account of each author, as far as could be ascertained, is affixed, noticing the year of his birth and death, the College or University at which he was graduated, the principal places of residence, occupation, &c.

EXPLANATION.

The first column refers to the volume in which the work may be found.

The second column is devoted to the Authors.

The third column is devoted to the subjects, fold, place where, and time when printed.

In the second column, when an author's name is inserted in brackets, the work immediately following was published anonymously, and whenever the double commas are inserted in brackets, the particular works against which they are inserted were also published anonymously.
